

Press Release

Keypiece Communication Desk.

Design: EOOS.

The strong power of communication. Modern leadership is all about dialogue. Moderating, initiating, communicating – it is the spoken word that counts. For corporate culture practised successfully. Keypiece Communication Desk supports contemporary leadership. Whether concentrated working or intense discussions in a group – the Communication Desk promotes the working methods of the modern world. Working, consulting, meeting, video conferencing – the design meets the demands.

The desk top looks like it is harmoniously floating on the base and container. A picture of balanced geometry. Close and confidential side by side, in discussion when opposite each other - the conical shape of the desk top makes it possible to balance proximity and distance, public and private while sitting. The common feature: the soft curves of the desk top. The Communication Desk routes the cables without them being seen. The media hub conceals modern media connections. The turntable on top closes the cable tank and makes it possible to turn the presentation screen. There is plenty of space for PC equipment and the tools of our individual daily routines in the containers - choose from the two different versions.

Whether an executive office or your workplace at home – Keypiece Communication Desk is a genuine bonus. Expansive and space-saving at the same time - there is no need for an additional meeting room table. For the gleaning of ideas, the organisation of activities, for freedom for thoughts and discussions.
